Inspector's Fee Ordered Paid

Payment of $117.30 for salary and car expense due a state highway department inspector who was in charge of the asphalt-paving of Hawthorne avenue, March 12 to 27, was ordered by the city council Tuesday night. City Engineer Frank R. Leonard recommended the payment, declaring that the city would be reimbursed by state gasoline tax funds later. Similar inspection fees have been charged, he said, for the Cabrillo and Normandie avenue improvement jobs.

Stray Dogs Get Pound Extension

Stray dogs picked up by the county dog catchers will be kept for at least 10 days hereafter, instead of only five days, before being destroyed, following an appeal of dog owners and breeders before the board of supervisors late Tuesday.

Sardines Run Aground
DURBAN, Eng. (U.P.) — A shoal of sardines, spreading over six acres of sea, was driven ashore recently at Isipingo Beach.

Supplies Awaited for Rural Station

Postmaster Birda Paddock is still awaiting the arrival of supplies to equip the new Rolling Hills Rural Station, which is scheduled to open Sept. 1. If the supplies arrive in time, the opening of the new station will be observed by a special cachet to be imprinted on envelopes mailed there the first day. Miss Paddock will receive such covers from collectors at the Lomita postoffice. Miss Winifred Meadows Williams has been named as clerk of the rural station.

Brief Highlights of California History . . .

died at Mission Carmel, August 28, 1784, at the age of 70.
Prior to the Franciscans, the Jesuit order had begun Mission founding in lower California. There, 1697, the Jesuit Father, Juan Maria Salvatierra, founded the mission at Laredo. It was Father Francisco Eusebio Kino, one of Salvatierra's associates, who, in 1700, on a journey of exploration at the head of the Gulf of California, traced with his telescope the mountain ranges far to the northward, and discovered that California was not an island, but a part of the mainland. The Jesuits were expelled from California by royal decree in 1767, leaving early the following year.

The Franciscan order, under Serra, at once took up and carried forward missionary and colonization labor in the new province. Spain took formal possession of upper California at Monterey, June 3, 1770, one hundred and sixty-eight years after the landing at the harbor by Sebastian Vizcaino in 1602.

Bay Found By Mistake
These ceremonies were conducted by Don Gaspar de Portola, as California's first Governor, mass being celebrated by Father Serra, and took place under the same oak tree where Vizcaino had camped and erected a cross in 1602. The trunk of this famous live oak tree, preserved by a chemical process, is now in the Chapel of San Carlos at Monterey. This chapel, built in 1794, is still in an excellent state of preservation. A granite cross marks the spot where the live oak stood, the tree having been felled when it began to wither and decay.

Portola's historic discovery of San Francisco Bay, Nov. 2, 1769, resulted with Portola's overland expedition from San Diego, searching for Monterey Bay, missed Monterey entirely, Portola finally sighting the harbor now called San Francisco Bay, and so named later by Father Serra in honor of his patron saint, St. Francis.

The first ship ever to sail through the Golden Gate into San Francisco Bay was the San Carlos, commanded by the Spanish Captain, Juan de Ayala, August 5, 1775. With Portola as the first Governor of California, at Monterey, and with the establishment there of Juniper Serra as Father President of the Missions, Monterey became the seat of both civil and ecclesiastical authority of the new Spanish province of California.

Dentist First Editor
It was likewise the military capital of the province, the main newspaper and the center of social life. Monterey, in the days "before the Gringo came," was the scientific center of all the colorful and picturesque life of the "Days of the Dons." Here was the wealth, the beauty, the gaiety, the enterprise of the entire country lying between San Francisco and San Diego.

"There will never again be seen upon this earth, perhaps," says John S. McGroarty, in his book, "California," "a life so ideal as that which was in Monterey and throughout all California in its halcyon days before the Gringo came . . . the land was fat with plenty and every door was flung wide with welcome to whosoever might come."
It was here, in California's first capital, that California's first newspaper, "The Californian," was published by Dr. Robert Semple, with type borrowed from the missions. Semple, a dentist, was a Kentuckian, standing 6 feet 8 inches, and usually dressed in buckskin, wearing a coonskin cap. Dr. Semple transferred his activities and his vigorous personality about this time to Sonoma and with General Mariano G. Vallejo planned the city of Benicia, named for Vallejo's wife. Semple operated the first ferry on San Francisco Bay; participated in the Bear Flag revolt later and was chairman of the first constitutional convention at Monterey.

Baby Is Acrobatic Crawler
SOCORRO, N. M. (U.P.)—Ten-month-old P. A. Campredon, Jr., defies the age-old custom of crawling on hands and knees. He raises himself with only the back of his head and his feet touching the floor and pushes himself along as rapidly as other babies.

Local Skipper Wins Race for Third Year

Defending its laurels for the third year in succession, W. M. Todd's 16-foot skimmer "Lark" won the first award again Sunday in the fourth annual 20-30 club regatta off Cabrillo Beach. Todd, who is a salesman for the Southern California Gas Company out of the Torrance office, was presented with an attractive desk-lamp and pen set, the award coming from the Signal Oil company.

Assisting Skipper Todd in navigating the Lark was "Crew" H. P. Langhorne of Downey. There were 11 skimmers in the 16-foot restricted class races that were held Saturday and Sunday. The Lark came in first twice and third once, only a few seconds difference in time between winning and second and third places.

Now four years old, the Lark won the initial 20-30 regatta, was fouled out the second year, Todd won a pilot's wheel plaque last year for being first in the race. He plans to enter his craft in the Southern California Yacht club's annual regatta at Catalina Island over the Labor Day Holiday.

Four New Babies at Hospital Here

New arrivals during the past week at Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital were:

- A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gillette of Redondo Beach, on Friday.

- A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes of Hermosa Beach, last Wednesday.

- A son to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jenkin of Harbor City, also last Wednesday.

- A son, their third to be born in a local hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Toichi Mochidome of Moneta, last Thursday.

Townsend Club Activities

Torrance Townsend Club No. 1 is holding its regular meeting tonight at the elementary school auditorium where plans for a Labor Day mass-meeting of 17th Congressional clubs to be held in the city park, will be discussed. J. W. Ferron and Mrs. Anderson of the Los Angeles Auxiliary will be present and some interesting business will be brought up. All members and friends are urged to attend tonight so as to get a clear understanding of the matters to be voted upon. Refreshments will be served.

Pound Made Official County Agency, Report

The South Bay Humane Society, which serves Torrance with its pound facilities, has been recommended to the board of supervisors as an official agency of the county health department by Dr. J. L. Pomerooy and now is expected to play an important part in the fight against rabies in the beach districts adjoining this city.

Recently the Society installed new equipment and kennels at its animal shelter, 20362 Earl street, off Torrance boulevard. Stray animals picked up in Lawndale, Lomita, El Nido, Palos Verdes and all unincorporated areas south of Rosecrans avenue will be put in the South Bay pound. Dr. Pomerooy has stated that the organization can greatly aid in the suppression of rabies.

Fire Station Sign to Be Installed

At the request of the insurance company protecting the property a warning sign that the building is a fire station will be placed on the west side of the central headquarters on Cravens avenue. This was ordered by the city council Tuesday night.

have been all-America with a larger team.
Eldon Auker, Tigers' submarine ball hurler, was a half-back on one of Bob McMillin's teams at Kansas State. Buster Mills, Boston Red Sox outfielder, was a star halfback at the University of Oklahoma and kicked the field goal by which the West defeated the East, 3-0, in the Shrine game at San Francisco Christmas Day, 1930.

Spud Chandler, Yankee pitcher, was one of the greatest punters Georgia ever developed. One of Chandler's finest games was in New York when his punting enabled the southerners to beat the N. Y. U. In that game Chandler booted one from his own 20-yard line across the Violets' goal line. Pinky Higgins, Red Sox third baseman, played halfback one year on the University of Texas Longhorns but Uncle Billy Ditch, coach of the Texas baseball team, made him give up football to concentrate on baseball.

Perhaps the best lineman in baseball is Freddie Sington, who won all-America honors at Alabama in 1930, and led the Crimson Tide to a smashing 24-0 triumph over Washington State in the 1931 Rose Bowl game.
